

TOP STORIES

While September was all about fashion, the advent of autumn sees HongKongTatler.com turning its attention to the arts. Look out for interviews with Australian contemporary artist Guy Maestri, winner of the 2009 Archibald Prize; Hangzhou-based painter Yuan Yuan, creator of the above Blues IX (2012), who will be presenting his first solo exhibition in Hong Kong at the Edouard Malingue Gallery; and emerging young artists featured at the Asia Contemporary Art Show.

ONE TO WATCH

We're also kickstarting a new series on collectors this month, focusing on local aficionados who have amassed notable hoards of unique items such as vintage cars, watches or cameras.

DINING HIGHLIGHTS

¡QUÉ VIVA COCINA!

Post-summer, Hong Kong is traditionally inundated with new restaurant openings, and this year is no exception. Two new Spanish restaurants, Boqueria and Jason Atherton's 22 Ships, are set to open this month. We review both, and chat with the UK-based chef Atherton about his career under luminaries such as Ferran Adrià as well as the must-order dishes at the tapas bar.

SUBLIME SUSHI

One of the most eagerly anticipated openings in town has to be the eight-seater sushi bar from sushi master Masahiro Yoshitake, who will be relocating to Hong Kong and leaving behind his three-Michelin-starred Tokyo restaurant. We have an exclusive video interview with the chef as he walks us through his new restaurant in Sheung Wan.

>>MORE ONLINE

- Epicurean Express: let the pros teach you how to cook hairy crabs
- Celebrating National Day at home? We share our most patriotic recipes
- A new pâtisserie that combines Japanese attention to detail and intricacy with Scandinavian design ethos: meet the creators of Po's Atelier